By Armstrong H.S.R. No. 337

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the United States Navy has long been known for its ability to produce leaders in the defense of our country; and,

WHEREAS, in keeping with this ability and again demonstrating its wisdom the United States Navy has selected the Honorable Franklin Ace Pickens to be promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the United States Navy Reserve; and,

WHEREAS, though not technically a "Commander" until his appointment becomes final, which will happen in due time, Mr. Pickens has let his wife Dianna and his officemate Lieutenant Junior Grade Bob Armstrong know that it is all right with him if they call him "Commander" right now; and,

WHEREAS, in order to insure that our colleague's transformation from lowly Lieutenant to Lieutenant Commander is made with proper deference and with due regard for his military bearing and in order for him to get used to his new title; now, therefore, be it ~~therefore~~

RESOLVED, that Franklin Ace Pickens be appointed "Commander of the House pages" from now until his appointment as Lieutenant Commander becomes final, and the pages and members of the House are hereby advised that they may address our colleague as "Commander Pickens" at any time during this period.
