The invocation was offered by Kevin Bell, pastor, Church of the Nazarene, Georgetown, as follows:

Our Father in heaven, we thank you for this day that you have made. We realize who you are and who we are in your sight. We thank you for all the blessings that you have given to us and are willing to give to us if we place our faith in you.

Lord, I am thankful for the representatives of the house that are willing to give of their time and talents to serve others and to serve this great state. My prayer is that you will provide wisdom to all who seek it and that you will be a part of the decision-making process. I pray that we would never do anything that would grieve your spirit, but that we would do what is moral, ethical, and just in your sight.

I close with words that are beyond my own, a prayer that came from a man that knew you well, the prayer of King David that was lifted to you in front of the whole assembly:

"Praise be to you, O Lord, God of our fathers, from everlasting to everlasting. Yours, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the majesty, and the splendor, for everything in heaven and earth is yours. Yours, O Lord, is the kingdom; you are exalted as head over all. Wealth and honor come from you; you are the ruler of all things. In your hands are strength and power to exalt and give strength to all. Now, our God, we give you thanks, and praise your glorious name" (Chronicles 29:10-13). Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Krusee who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

CAPITOL PHYSICIAN

The speaker recognized Representative Macias who presented Dr. Jay Gruhlkey of New Braunfels as the "Doctor for the Day."
