The invocation was offered by Reverend Mario Arroyo, pastor, Saint Cyril of Alexandria Catholic Church, Houston, as follows:

Gracious Father, this morning, before we turn our attention to the work of the day, we acknowledge you, the ultimate source of all authority and power. By acknowledging you first, we remember that it is you who are the transcendent horizon of our civil arguments. It is you who counter the confusion of the political arena by reminding us that you alone are the ultimate horizon. But you insist, however, that our common humanity, with your gift of reason is capable of a common deliberation about how we ought to order our life together.

We know that you, Gracious Father, are not indifferent to the democratic experiment of this republic. And therefore we, who are called to think of you, and the governance of our common life, dare not be indifferent to the American experiment and of our home within it, the State of Texas. Help us to seek the common good, in which we find our good, as we yearn for and anticipate your kingdom that is our pilgrim goal. As we work together on the business at hand, help us periodically to lift our gaze above the fray and think deeply about the story of Texas and its place in the story of the world. We remember the words of your servant Augustine who said: "It is beyond anything incredible that God should have willed the kingdoms of men, their authority and their service, to be outside the range of the laws of His providence."

When we meet you, Gracious Father, we expect to meet you as Texans and Americans, not most importantly as Texans, or Americans, to be sure, but as people who tried to take seriously, and tried to encourage others to take seriously, the story of Texas and America within the story of the world.

And so Gracious Father, give guidance to our leaders. Watch over those who serve the people of the State of Texas; give them wisdom and courage. Guide their minds and hearts so that they will work for the good of our community. Help all your people, but especially those in public office, to be generous in outlook, courageous in the face of difficulty, and wise in their decisions. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Murphy who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

SB 781 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE TALTON: Representative Pickett, right now under this bill, the attorney general is the only one that has the power to address issues under the model subdivision rules. Is that correct?

REPRESENTATIVE PICKETT: That is correct.

TALTON: What is your bill doing regarding that?

PICKETT: This bill would allow an individual to enjoin as the attorney general or as a county official would.

TALTON: Do you think that this is going to create any frivolous lawsuits?

PICKETT: No, I don't.

TALTON: Secondly, under the current law, a developer or subdivider cannot plat or sell a lot in the area addressed by this bill without the sewer and water plants being approved. Is that correct?

PICKETT: That is correct.

TALTON: Does your bill change that?

PICKETT: It does not.

TALTON: Thirdly, the bill additionally allows the courts to grant an injunction for a threatened violation. Is that what your bill does?

PICKETT: Would you say that again?

TALTON: Does the bill that you have now, does it allow an individual to file for an injunction for a threatened violation?

PICKETT: Exactly, that is the point. Yes, sir.

TALTON: In addition to that injunction, does it allow them to be awarded damages and attorney fees?

PICKETT: Just as the attorney general and county officials. Yes, sir.

TALTON: Okay, then lastly what does your bill really do? What are you trying to do with this bill?

PICKETT: There's a lot of areas where the individuals themselves would like to be able to have the court enjoin in them, as we already allow the attorney general and certain county officials because there are areas where they can't, the attorney general or county officials, get to all of these properties. So we want the individual to have the same ability as the attorney general.
