HOUSE BILLS

SECOND READING

The following bills were laid before the house and read second time:

CSHB 3928 ON SECOND READING

(by Keffer, Ritter, Otto, Paxton, Pitts, et al.)

CSHB 3928, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to technical changes to the revised franchise tax.

(Chisum in the chair)

CSHB 3928 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE BRANCH: Mr. Keffer, just a couple of questions. One, I was noticing in the HRO report on what other opponents say, on page 45, that it should amend the revised to include a super majority. It's my understanding that HB 3 as we passed it in the special session has a two-thirds majority in it and we're not affecting that, right?

REPRESENTATIVE KEFFER: No, we are not.

BRANCH: Thank you for clarifying that. And just another, in terms of nomenclature, because I've heard a lot of people talk about a margins tax and perhaps lack of clarity, this is the revised franchise tax, the tax that goes back to the early 1900s. It's 171 of the tax code, and we're revising an old tax. That's what we did last year, right?

KEFFER: That's right.

BRANCH: And the basis is now part of margins, the modified gross receipts, but it's still the revised franchise tax. Is that right?

KEFFER: You're right.

BRANCH: And then you're going to take the small business exemption as proposed by this bill, which was $300,000 under the current HB 3 and expand that, double that—

KEFFER: Right. Yes.

BRANCH: —to $600,000?

KEFFER: Yes, we are.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Keffer offered the following amendment to CSHB 3928:

Floor Packet Page No. 17

Amend CSHB 3928 as follows:

- (1) Strike page 7, line 8, through page 8, line 7.
- (2) Renumber the subsequent SECTIONS of the bill appropriately.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

Representative Coleman offered the following amendment to CSHB 3928:

Amend CSHB 3928 on page 1 by adding the following ARTICLE and SECTION and renumbering the subsequent ARTICLES and SECTIONS appropriately:

ARTICLE 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS

SECTION 1.01. FINDINGS. The Legislature finds that:

(1) During the 79th Legislature, 3rd Called Session, 2006, the Legislature passed HB 3 to restructure the state's franchise tax to expand the tax to include newly taxed entities and change how the tax is calculated;

(2) HB 3 was part of a package of bills whose intent was to provide a long-term solution to the school finance problem facing the state of Texas;

(3) The new taxes generated by HB 3 were to be appropriated to the newly formed Property Tax Relief Fund.

SECTION 1.02. PURPOSE. As a result of the findings made by the Legislature as stated in Section 1.01 of this article, the purposes of this Act are to:

- (1) make changes to the revised franchise tax.

Amendment No. 3

Representative Coleman offered the following amendment to Amendment No. 2:

Amend Amendment No. 2 by striking the language after "ARTICLE 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS" and inserting the following:

SECTION 1.01. FINDINGS. The Legislature finds that:

(1) during the 79th Legislature, 3rd Called Session, 2006, the Legislature passed HB 3 to restructure the state's franchise tax to expand the tax to include newly taxed entities and change how the tax is calculated;

(2) the intent of this Act is to make corrections to HB 3 of the 3rd Called Special Session of the 79th Legislature;

(3) HB 3 was part of a package of legislation, along with HB 1, HB 2, HB 4, and HB 5 of the 3rd Called Special Session of the 79th Legislature, known as the "tax reform plan;"

(4) HB 3, HB 4, and HB 5 created a new business tax, increased the used motor vehicle sales tax, and raised the tax on cigarettes, respectively;

(5) the new tax dollars generated by HB 3, HB 4, and HB 5 were directly dedicated, in accordance with HB 2, to a "Property Tax Relief Fund" to pay for reductions in property taxes required by the passage of HB 1;

(6) not a single dollar appropriated to the "Property Tax Relief Fund" was dedicated to provide a long term school finance solution, which means that not a single dollar raised by the tax bills will be used for the more than 4.3 million Texas students who attend classes in 1,037 independent school districts across the state of Texas;

(7) arguments were raised during the 3rd Called Special Session that the aforementioned legislation was inadequate to replace school property tax revenue and was not an even dollar-for-dollar tax swap, therefore requiring future Legislatures to spend from the state's general revenue fund in order to pay for the property tax cuts;

(8) the latest estimates by the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts show that the state's new business tax could generate between $500 million and $900 million per fiscal year less than what was projected during the 3rd Called Special Session of the 79th Legislature;

(9) the property tax cuts appropriated by HB 1 in the 3rd Called Special Session created a $14.2 billion deficit in the Foundation School Fund, of which, according to the aforementioned estimates by the Comptroller, approximately $7.5 billion will be replaced by taxes collected in the "Property Tax Relief Fund," thereby requiring the future appropriation of general revenue dollars to cover the remaining $6.7 billion deficit that exists in the Foundation School Fund;

(10) appropriating $6.7 billion in general revenue to pay for the promised property tax cuts further depletes existing areas of state government that have been forced to endure drastic budget cuts since 2003;

(11) the general revenue dollars would be better spent to increase the state's investments in providing affordable health care to all Texans, improving our public schools, lowering college tuition and electricity rates for Texas families, and many of the other important priorities of Texas citizens.

SECTION 1.02. PURPOSE. As a result of the findings made by the Legislature as stated in Section 1.01 of this article, the purposes of this Act are to:

(1) make changes to the revised franchise tax that improve the legislation passed during the 3rd Called Special Session of the 79th Legislature; and

(2) ensure the tax dollars of Texas citizens are spent on all of Texans' priorities, and not just property tax cuts.

Amendment No. 3 was adopted.

CSHB 3928 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Dunnam raised a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 3928 under Rule 4, Section 18(c) and Rule 4, Section 32(c) of the House Rules on the grounds that the committee minutes and bill analysis are incorrect.

The speaker overruled the point of order, and submitted the following statement:

Mr. Dunnam raises a point of order against further consideration CSHB 3928, arguing that the minutes were not timely filed. Specifically, Mr. Dunnam argues that the minutes were due on Good Friday, April 6, 2007, or the Monday following Easter, April 9, 2007. Mr. Dunnam specifically argues that the only holidays that the state may recognize are the legal holidays noted in Section 662.003(a) or (b), Government Code.

This interpretation is incorrect. First, the House Rules refer only to "holidays", and not legal holidays under Section 662.003, Government Code.

Second, the provisions of Section 662.003 are not binding on the house. In the provision directly before Section 622.003, which is not cited by Mr. Dunnam, the section notes that "this subchapter applies to a state employee of the house of representatives or the senate only at the discretion of the presiding officer or the administration committee of each respective house."

In this case, such discretion was exercised. On March 23, 2007, the speaker of the house wrote a memo given to all house members noting that the Speaker's Office and House Business Office would be closed Friday, April 6 and Monday, April 9 in the observance of Easter.

On April 4, 2007, the committee coordinator issued a memorandum noting that the Committee Coordinator's Office would be closed on the same days, in accordance with the decision by the speaker to close the House Business Office. The notice, posted on the door of the Committee Coordinator's Office and on all bulletin boards on which announcements are normally placed, clearly stated the closing. Accordingly, because the offices were properly closed for a holiday which was properly announced, the minutes were timely filed and the point of order is respectfully overruled.

Additionally, Mr. Dunnam raises a point of order against further consideration of CSHB 3928 under Rule 4, Section 32(c) of the House Rules. The chair finds that the amendatory language for Section 171.0003 is properly treated in the bill analysis and is not misleading. The point of order is overruled.

Amendment No. 11

Representative Y. Davis offered the following amendment to CSHB 3928:
Floor Packet Page No. 12

Amend CSHB 3928 as follows:

- (1) On page 3, line 9, delete "[~~(i)~~]" before the word "are" and insert [(i)].

- (3) On page 3, line 13, before the word "are" insert [(ii)].
- (4) On page 3, line 16, renumber the subsection as "[(B)]".

Amendment No. 11 was adopted.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Thompson raised a point of order against further consideration of the calendar under Rule 6, Sections 15 and 16 of the House Rules.

The speaker overruled the point of order, and submitted the following statement:

House practice dictates that a member will make a motion on the floor to postpone a bill to a specific time for future consideration today or, more generally, to the end of a specific calendar (i.e. end of third readings or end of the calendar). When postponing a bill, the author may also choose to postpone to a specific date/time on another calendar day. The postponement of a bill does not cause the bill to lose its specific calendar placement category. The specific categories are assigned by the Calendars Committee in the original meeting to place the measures.

An example of this can be seen when a bill is postponed to another date and time. The "postponed business" is listed in a calendar category with a description of what time the measure is to appear as postponed (i.e. Tuesday, May 1, 2007, at 10 a.m.). No relation to the placement category is displayed in the postponed business categories on the supplemental calendar, but this does not mean the measure loses its calendar standing. Postponed bills to a specific time are displayed chronologically in the order they have been postponed (Rule 7, Section 16). The postponed business categories also do not give preference to readings. Second and third readings are mixed together according to when they were originally postponed. Once a bill in a postponed category is passed on second reading, it will then appear within its originally designated category on third reading in the next supplemental calendar. If a measure has been passed on third reading it obviously will not appear on the next supplemental calendar.

In the case of a measure being postponed to the end of the current day's calendar, or to the end of third readings, the document will appear at the end of the category as it was originally placed (i.e. major state or general state) on the next day's supplemental calendar. In today's example, CSHB 626 was postponed to the end of Monday's calendar and then not considered. Normal house practice dictates that the bill will be positioned at the end of the business within its assigned category, ahead of any new business. CSHB 626 should be placed as the first bill in the Major State Calendar, Second Readings, ahead of any new major state business from Tuesday's Daily Calendar. No other major state second readings were postponed to the end of the calendar for Tuesday, so CSHB 626 appears as the first bill in the Major State Calendar, Second Readings category. If the bill passes to third reading, it will appear on Wednesday's Supplemental Calendar in the Major State Calendar, Third Readings category in the order it was considered among all major state second readings on the previous day.

Accordingly, the point of order is overruled.

AMENDMENT NO. 32 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE KUEMPEL: Thank you, Mr. Smithee. I guess I'm trying to get squared in my mind, Mr. Smithee. Next year when the companies start collecting, paying the margins tax, they will want to recover that cost, and now you're going to prohibit that?

REPRESENTATIVE SMITHEE: No, no, it doesn't at all. If you read the amendment, it doesn't. I know that's on their talking points, but it doesn't do that.

KUEMPEL: Okay, take me through what it does do, then.

SMITHEE: All it does is they can't be false, misleading, and deceptive by representing to the consumer that it's the consumer's tax, by charging it as a line-item transactional tax when it's not.

KUEMPEL: So you're saying that they can recover this tax when they start paying the margins tax next year, that they'll be able to recover whatever that dollar amount is and keep that amount?

SMITHEE: Sure, they'll do it the same way your plumber will do it, your electrician, your lawyer, your doctor. If they need to cover their cost to goods sold, or their cost of services sold, they'll simply adjust their rates. They'll do it honestly just like the rest of Texans. So we're going to treat them no better or no worse than any other Texan.

KUEMPEL: Well, all companies are not charging that tax at this moment.

SMITHEE: Just one is charging, and that's the one I'm concerned about.

KUEMPEL: Are they still charging the tax?

SMITHEE: You mentioned to me that they might not be, that they may have stopped, I assume until the session's over, but if they haven't, if they're not, if the other companies don't, then why have 100 or 200 lobbyists been working this so hard? If this is a non-issue, what do they care?

KUEMPEL: Well, I think that a lot of times we pass laws down here that are non-issues to everybody until there's an interpretation, and once it's an interpretation that is other than what we believe it should be, then we create real problems. I just want to make sure that when they do collect their margins tax, which we are putting on them, that they're going to be able to recoup that cost without sending it to the State of Texas.

SMITHEE: Well, I was really careful to write this so that nobody can misinterpret it, okay?

KUEMPEL: I certainly appreciate your forthrightness, Mr. Smithee, but I've been here too long to believe that somebody cannot misinterpret what we intended it to be. I see it all the time and I've seen it for a number of years.

SMITHEE: And I have no doubt that the cell phone companies will land, somehow, will land on their feet and will survive despite this amendment. It's going to be difficult, but I think they're going to make it.

KUEMPEL: I don't doubt that, but there's an old Seguin colloquialism, Mr. Smithee, when you see a turtle sitting on top of a fence post, you've got to figure somebody put it there. And I am getting very nervous.

Amendment No. 33

Representative Haggerty offered the following amendment to Amendment No. 32:

Amend Amendment No. 32 by Smithee to CSHB 3928 (page 62 of the amendment packet) on page 1, by striking lines 10-20 and substituting the following:

reimbursement of the tax under this chapter is liable to the state for the entire amount of the fee, charge, reimbursement, or other item collected plus any accrued penalties and interest on the amount collected and that amount shall be credited toward the person's tax liability under this chapter.

REPRESENTATIVE Y. DAVIS: Representative Otto, thanks for agreeing to do this. We wanted to go back and visit the amendment I had relative to board of directors and what the intent was. I pulled down the amendment, but I wanted to make sure that we establish what the intent was so that it's very clear in the bill.

REPRESENTATIVE OTTO: Right.

Y. DAVIS: And as you understand it, the board of directors would not be taxed because of?

OTTO: Basically, the mere fact that you serve as a director, on a board, does not constitute a trade or business. And that is in keeping with how the internal revenue service treats that type of service as well.

Y. DAVIS: And one of the things that has been brought to me is that sometimes these folks on board of directors, beyond just board of directors in an advisory but more management, more involved in the operations of management of the entity, and I was trying to make sure that we were not excluding that kind of performance as part of the operations of the business, I guess.

OTTO: That's correct, but in those instances where you have someone who serves in both capacities, sort of a dual capacity, the director fees and the payments that they receive are still not treated as a trade or business.

Y. DAVIS: And I just want to make sure that's what we're trying to do.

REASON FOR VOTE

The key provisions of CSHB 3928 eliminate double taxation for partnerships and continue to exempt sole proprietorships, which represent the vast majority of small businesses. And most importantly, it doubles the business tax exemption from $300,000 to $600,000, unleashing 60,000 more businesses in Texas from the newly created business activity tax.

Small businesses represent the economic engine of the State of Texas, including job creation in each of our districts and job security for many of our constituents. Giving small entrepreneurs a fighting chance is fundamental to supporting a strong Texas economy. Those of you who own and operate or have owned and operated a business of your own fully understand that the more the government increases the tax burden on the small businessman, the tougher the hurdle becomes for that small business to survive. This bill is a major victory for the little guy and all who depend upon the success of the small businesses of Texas.

CSHB 626 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE DUNNAM: We're talking about, or we're not talking about, the elephant in the room. I'm 43-years-old, and in my lifetime my fellow citizens have had people of my color prevent them from voting. It's something that happened in my state, in my county, and I'm not proud of it. When people attempted, and not just attempted, but did take away the voting rights of African Americans, they didn't say, "let's not let black folks vote." Nobody ever said that in the Jim Crow laws. They said, "it's a health issue, and we should have 'separate but equal.'" They said, "people should know who they're voting for, people should make intelligent choices, and so they should answer this test," that was given in Alabama during my lifetime. They didn't say, "let's not let black folks vote." They said, "here is a rationale for good state policy, and let's implement this policy, let's have a poll tax, because that poll tax is going to support our public schools, it's a good thing." They didn't say, "let's not let minorities vote." They didn't say, "let's not let minorities vote." They said, "let's keep a heritage in this nation, and you can vote if your grandfather voted." Nobody ever said it. Let's not be afraid to say it. It happened.

If you go over to the LBJ Memorial Library, you will see letter and document after document that tell us the history of the overwhelming attempts to keep minorities from voting in the United States of America. That's what this is about, and history repeats itself and it did so just four years ago, because a bill authored by my friend, Mr. King, this chamber adopted a bill that the United States Supreme Court said violated the voting rights of 1.5 million Texans in 2003. And so now we're going to say, "we need to determine citizenship." I do not want to have a noncitizen vote, you don't want to have a noncitizen vote. It's a pretext. Today it is a Class B misdemeanor for a noncitizen to vote. Today it is a Class B misdemeanor for me to help a noncitizen vote. How many people have been prosecuted for voting illegally, noncitizens in the State of Texas, in the last 100 years? None. But we have to fix it. But we have to fix it, because we don't want illegals voting. They're not voting. We just had an election contest, tried by this chamber in Mr. Vo's race. It was within 20 votes. They examined every ballot, every voter registration card, and you know what they found? They found an illegal person voted. He was a Norwegian, who checked on his box that he was not a citizen, and the registrar of Harris County sent him a ballot anyway, and he voted. His affidavit said he voted straight republican. That's true. That's true.

People say that discrimination in voting is a thing of the past, but in Ohio a mere one election ago, we had a gentleman say you couldn't accept voter registration cards because they were on the wrong weight of paper. The secretary of state, even though his office had sent out application registrations in the same weight paper that he was trying to disallow. In the State of Florida, 2,000 people who were eligible to vote were purged because they supposedly were felons. Their only crime was that they were disproportionately minority, and they were purged off the voter rolls.

This bill, and the amendment to follow, and I've read them, are, number one, overly broad, because they seek to solve a problem that does not exist. It is against the law right now. Anybody who signs their voter application card does so under the penalty of perjury. Prosecute them. We had an election contest that showed it's not happening. It is a solution in search of a problem, but the problem is they talk about, the problem is illegals voting. The problem is some people systematically want to lower minority participation in our elections. That's just the facts. That is what this is all about, you all know that, and I decided I should say it. I should say it.

This is unnecessary; it creates barriers to people who otherwise should be eligible to vote. We have, I heard, maybe, at the top, there's 25,000 people that are illegally voting. That's what somebody said in one of these meetings. There are 13 million registered voters—25,000 is like .0001 percent. So to catch these people that are illegally voting, we're going to hassle 13 million other people. Let me tell you what happens at the polls today, and you can ask Michelle Dunnam, because she was there on the last election. She stood in line for two hours in early voting at a polling place in the anglo part of town to vote. Two hours, and in front of her was a young African American lady. When she got up to the front after those two hours, she didn't have the right ID, even though her name was on the list, and they told her she had to come back, and then virtually immediately they let an anglo person do exactly what that young black girl had gotten off work and stood for two hours to try to do. That happened in my hometown. I'm not proud of it, but we have to recognize it, and we have to say it exists. And things like this, it's just more sophisticated Jim Crow. It is.

This prevents and hinders people who would otherwise be eligible to vote from voting, and it can't be implemented. We don't have reciprocity with other states to go find out who's a citizen or not, we don't have the data to go over and find out who was born on an Army base at Reinheim in West Germany, who is a U.S. citizen, even though they were born in Germany. We don't have the data to do that. We don't have the data to do any of that. What is this? That's how some people had to find out to be eligible to vote. If you were black, in some places, you had to count and tell the registrar how many bubbles were in this bar of soap. Sounds like a fairy tale, doesn't it? It does. It happened, and we should stop it, and we ought to get on down the road on this deal. If we have people voting illegally, prosecute them. Put them in jail. But let's stop this.

REPRESENTATIVE HOCHBERG: Jim, the right to vote is really important, as you've just outlined, and as we all know in this chamber, how important it is. We wouldn't be here without people voting.

DUNNAM: That's right.

HOCHBERG: Before the state takes away your right to vote, whether you're a new voter or an established voter, whether you're just now registering or re-registering in our state because you've come from another, or whether you're in the military, shouldn't it have stronger evidence than the fact that one computer couldn't talk to another computer?

DUNNAM: That's not what it's about.

HOCHBERG: That's right.

DUNNAM: This is not about any of that stuff. This is not about masses of illegals voting. That young woman didn't sit in line for two hours because she was some illegal who wanted to vote. That's not what this is about. This is a mechanism that will result in lower minority participation in our elections. It will result in that. That's why we are seeing it systematically proposed across the nation. We all know that. I would ask that you vote no on the motion to table.
