Absent — Castro; Chavez; Coleman; Hilderbran; Martinez Fischer; Miklos; Olivo.

The invocation was offered by Reverend Trey Graham, senior pastor, First Baptist Church, Melissa, as follows:

Dear Heavenly Father, we take this moment to pause in your presence, acknowledging that you are always wise and we are not, that you are always holy and we are not, that you are always honest and we are not, that you are always kind and we are not. We humble ourselves before you and ask for the wisdom and strength to understand and carry out your divine will.

I pray for these house members, that you would grant them the courage to stand against greed, immorality, dishonesty, selfishness, hatred, and cowardice. I pray that these legislators would resist pressure from individuals and groups who promote and encourage ungodliness. I pray that a spirit of cooperation would surround this chamber as members seek to lead our state, united by a devotion to commonsense government, fiscal responsibility, and biblical values. I pray that the laws which originate in this house would be designed to protect the innocent, reward the hard working, and punish the unlawful. I pray that our leaders would be ever mindful that human life is a gift from you and should be respected, celebrated, and protected. I pray that our leaders would remember the truths of Romans Chapter 13, which teaches us that those in power only occupy their positions because you, as the ruler of the universe, have ordained it.

I pray that our state would be a beacon of light to the world, that Texas would be seen as a place where elected leaders work together to bless, honor, encourage, and protect Texans. I pray that you would bless and protect the great State of Texas, its citizens, and the members of this distinguished body. I pray that you would be honored by all that takes place in this very room. I pray all of this in the name of my Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Laubenberg who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.
