The invocation was offered by Rabbi Barry H. D. Block, senior rabbi, Temple Beth-El, San Antonio, as follows:

In ancient days, a great rabbi, Hillel, asked: "If I am not for myself, who will be for me? If I am only for myself, what am I?" Let us pray today that the men and women of the Texas House of Representatives will ask Rabbi Hillel's questions of themselves.

"If I am not for myself, who will be for me?" Five months of late nights and early mornings, of endless hearings and early sessions, of meetings before the meeting and of meetings after the meeting, of separation from family and dislocation from home, and then rushing back home, only for more meetings. These five months are not good for the body, destructive to the soul. Let our servant leaders in this legislature take care of themselves and of their family. Let them get some sleep and let them eat right, and maybe even exercise. Let them be good to their families and good for their families. Let them be for themselves, even as they serve others.

But Rabbi Hillel also asked: "If I am only for myself, what am I?" Without ego, nobody would be here, not the members, not the speaker, not the press, not the staff, not the chaplain. But we must not be here only for ourselves. Let these elected representatives of the people be ever mindful of who sent them here, and even more of why they came. Recommit these men and women to the service of every Texan. In these most difficult of days, let these legislators think first of those most in need. Let them provide food to the hungry, clothing to the naked, healing to the sick. Whether in the speaker's district, where my home sits, or two blocks away, a lower income area, in a different city, in a different school district, in a different congressional district, in a different senate district, in a different house district, every Texan depends on these men and women to assure the future of our great state. Let the light of knowledge, excellence in education, at every level, flow from this great room to every classroom and every laboratory in Texas. Let the men and women gathered here reach beyond themselves, creating opportunity for those who have so much less than we. If we are only for ourselves, we are nothing.

And Rabbi Hillel concluded: "And if not now, when?" They say that crisis presents opportunity. Today, we find ourselves in crisis; let us seize the opportunity. Today, too, we find ourselves with a new speaker, a man who lives the ancient Rabbi's teaching: "Who is wise? One who learns from all." With such a man at the helm, surely this house can seize the day. Let each of us begin today to care for ourselves and to provide for the sick and the lonely, the poor and the hungry. Then, truly, will this legislature and this day be a blessing. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Gutierrez who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

CAPITOL PHYSICIAN

The speaker recognized Representative Naishtat who presented Dr. Rita Schindeler-Trachta of Austin as the "Doctor for the Day."
