The invocation was offered by Robert Sutton, Jr., First Baptist Church, Portland, as follows:

Our dear Heavenly Father, we thank thee for thy bountiful blessings. We thank thee for these, thy servants, who are gathered to serve thy people. We pray for wisdom, for discernment, and for listening ears as we seek to better the people of this great state.

Help us, O Lord, to become students of each other so that we might be understanding of those things needed to aid and assist the needs of our people whom we serve. Give us a sense of righteousness, that our nation might be exalted. Give us a sense of morality, that our society may be exemplary. Give us a sense of justice so that our men and women, boys and girls might be able to lead a life of liberty and pursuit of happiness. We seek patience with one another, principle for each other, and promise on behalf of everyone.

As a nation under God, we ask your favor for the day in such a way that we all will look back on this day as a day the Lord has made and we all rejoiced and were glad in it. God bless America, God bless Texas, and God bless all of us. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Hunter who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

REASONS FOR VOTE

I voted yes on HB 2066 when it passed on second reading because domestic violence is devastating to Texas families. However, I voted no on third reading and final passage because of the possibility of wrongful imprisonment of those who are not guilty. The enhancement of the penalty from a Class A misdemeanor to a felony leaves too much discretion to prosecutors. This is especially true when we know that people of color are detrimentally affected more than any other group in the State of Texas. HB 2066 has passed and will protect women in domestic violence situations, but we must make sure that it does not disproportionately affect people of color.

Coleman

Today is undoubtedly one of those days that Dr. King talked about when he said, and I paraphrase, it doesn't matter what you do when it is convenient, or what you do when it is comfortable. What is important is what you do when the decision is controversial and the decision is not easy. This is one of those moments for me.

I am a strong advocate for victims of domestic violence, and I believe the punishment of those who commit the acts of domestic violence must be swift and certain. That is why I have authored and passed a number of bills to punish violators and protect and offer safety to victims of domestic violence. There is nothing in this bill that will add to the security and safety of victims. This bill does not create a new penalty; this bill enhances a penalty with the punishment increasing from up to one year to a penalty of up to 10 years. Prosecutors today can charge these violators with an array of felony charges up to attempted murder, and it seems to me that strangulation, choking, and suffocation is indeed attempted murder, or at least assault or one of a number of other felonies that could be used to prosecute these perpetrators. As the author of a number of bills to protect domestic violence victims, I believe this enhanced penalty should require an outcry, some evidence, some witness, or at least the inclusion of the strangulation, choking, or suffocation in the victim's original complaint.

Each of us today should cast the vote that we believe in our hearts furthers the cause of justice. Our vote today should not be about expediency, should not be about what is popular or what is safe, but I hope that our vote will be about justice.

We have just recently recognized on the house floor the family of Timothy Cole, a person who spent many years in prison based on a charge and conviction not supported by physical evidence or witnesses. After his death, Mr. Cole was exonerated. Earlier today, we recognized 15 people who had been exonerated, having been cleared by DNA after serving many years in jail. Their wrongful convictions were not about justice. This bill allows for more of those kinds of convictions, no evidence or even an outcry. This bill should require outcry, evidence, a witness, or an allegation of choking, suffocation, or strangulation in the original complaint.

Our justice system must have the necessary precautions to eliminate the probability of repeats of the kind we have seen here today, sending innocent people to jail. I cannot vote today for political expediency, for popularity, or to put forth a safe vote. I will vote for what I believe is the cause of justice. This bill without an amendment is an erosion of the justice system. This is not an easy vote. I hope this bill is amended in the senate and that I will be able to vote for it when it returns from the senate. For today, I must vote no.

SECTION 3. Chapter 62, Education Code, is amended by adding Subchapter F to read as follows:

SUBCHAPTER F. NATIONAL RESEARCH UNIVERSITY FUND

Sec. 62.121. PURPOSE. The purpose of this subchapter is to allocate appropriations from the national research university fund to provide a dedicated, independent, and equitable source of funding to enable emerging research universities in this state to achieve national prominence as major research universities.

Sec. 62.122. DEFINITIONS. In this subchapter:

(1) "Eligible institution" means a general academic teaching institution that is eligible to receive distributions of money under this subchapter.

(2) "Fund" means the national research university fund.

(3) "General academic teaching institution" has the meaning assigned by Section 61.003.

Sec. 62.123. ADMINISTRATION AND INVESTMENT OF FUND.

(a) The national research university fund is a fund outside the state treasury in the custody of the comptroller.

(b) The comptroller shall administer and invest the fund in accordance with Section 20, Article VII, Texas Constitution.

Sec. 62.124. FUNDING. (a) The fund consists of any amounts appropriated or transferred to the credit of the fund under the Texas Constitution or otherwise appropriated or transferred to the credit of the fund under this section or another law.

(b) The comptroller shall deposit to the credit of the fund all interest, dividends, and other income earned from investment of the fund.

(c) The comptroller may accept gifts or grants from any public or private source for the fund.

Sec. 62.125. ELIGIBILITY TO RECEIVE DISTRIBUTIONS FROM FUND. (a) A general academic teaching institution is eligible to receive a distribution of money under this subchapter for each year of a state fiscal biennium if:

(1) the institution is designated as an emerging research university under the coordinating board's accountability system;

(2) in each of the two state fiscal years preceding the state fiscal biennium, the institution expended at least $45 million in restricted research funds; and

(3) the institution satisfies at least four of the following criteria:

(A) the aggregate value of the institution's endowment funds is at least $400 million;

(B) the institution awarded at least 200 doctor of philosophy degrees during each of the two academic years preceding the state fiscal biennium;

(C) the entering freshman class of the institution for each of those two academic years demonstrated high academic achievement, as determined according to standards prescribed by the coordinating board by rule, giving consideration to the future educational needs of the state as articulated in the coordinating board's "Closing the Gaps" report;

(D) the institution is designated as a member of the Association of Research Libraries or has a Phi Beta Kappa chapter or has received an equivalent recognition of research capabilities and scholarly attainment as determined according to standards prescribed by the coordinating board by rule;

(E) the faculty of the institution for each of those two academic years was of high quality, as determined according to coordinating board standards based on the professional achievement and recognition of the institution's faculty, including the election of faculty members to national academies; and

(F) the institution has demonstrated a commitment to high quality graduate education, as determined according to standards prescribed by the coordinating board by rule, including the number of graduate-level programs at the institution, the institution's admission standards for graduate programs, and the level of institutional support for graduate students.

(b) A general academic teaching institution that becomes eligible to receive a distribution of money under this subchapter remains eligible to receive a distribution in each subsequent state fiscal year.

Sec. 62.126. ACCOUNTING STANDARDS; VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION. (a) The coordinating board, in consultation with the State Auditor's Office, by rule shall prescribe standard methods of accounting and standard methods of reporting information for the purpose of determining the eligibility of institutions under Section 62.125.

(b) As soon as practicable in each even-numbered year, based on information submitted by the institutions to the coordinating board as required by the coordinating board, the coordinating board shall certify to the comptroller the institutions that are determined to be initially eligible for distributions of money from the fund for the following state fiscal biennium.

(c) At the request of the coordinating board, the State Auditor's Office shall verify the information supporting the coordinating board's determination under Subsection (b).

Sec. 62.127. INELIGIBILITY OF INSTITUTIONS RECEIVING PERMANENT UNIVERSITY FUND SUPPORT AND MAINTENANCE. The University of Texas at Austin, Texas A&M University, and Prairie View A&M University are ineligible to receive money under this subchapter.

Sec. 62.128. ALLOCATION OF APPROPRIATED FUNDS TO ELIGIBLE INSTITUTIONS. In each state fiscal year, the comptroller shall distribute to eligible institutions the total amount appropriated from the fund for that fiscal year. The amount allocated to the eligible institutions shall be based on an equitable formula adopted by the legislature to carry out the purposes of the fund as established by Section 20, Article VII, Texas Constitution. In adopting the allocation formula, the legislature shall consider the recommendations of the coordinating board, including recommendations on the appropriate elements and relative weights of elements of the formula.

Sec. 62.129. USE OF ALLOCATED AMOUNTS. (a) An eligible institution may use money received under this subchapter only for the support and maintenance of educational and general activities that promote increased research capacity at the institution.

(b) For purposes of Subsection (a), permitted activities include the use of the money to:

- (1) provide faculty support and pay faculty salaries;
- (2) purchase equipment or library materials;
- (3) pay graduate stipends; and
- (4) support research performed at the institution, including undergraduate research.

(c) Money received in a fiscal year by an institution under this subchapter that is not used in that fiscal year by the institution may be held and used by the institution in subsequent fiscal years for the purposes prescribed by this section.

SECTION 4. Section 62.094, Education Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 62.094. FUNDING. (a) The research development fund consists of the ~~[amount deposited to the credit of the fund under Section 62.025 in each state fiscal year, the amount appropriated or transferred to the credit of the fund by the legislature under Subsection (b), and any other]~~ amounts appropriated or transferred to the credit of the fund under this section or other law.

(b) ~~[In each state fiscal year, the legislature may appropriate or provide for the transfer to the credit of the research development fund of an amount not less than the amount deposited to the credit of the fund under Section 62.025 in that fiscal year.~~

~~(c)~~ The comptroller shall deposit all interest, dividends, and other income earned from investment of the research development fund to the credit of the fund.

~~(c)~~ ~~(d)~~ The comptroller may accept gifts or grants from any public or private source for the research development fund.

SECTION 5. Sections 62.025 and 62.026, Education Code, are repealed.

(29) On page 9, line 21, strike "SECTION 2" and substitute "SECTION 6".

(30) On page 9, lines 22 and 23, strike "Subchapters FF, GG, and HH, Chapter 61, Education Code" and substitute "Subchapters C, D, and F, Chapter 62, Education Code".

(31) On page 9, strike line 25 and substitute the following:

SECTION 7. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, this Act takes effect September 1, 2009.

(b) Sections 3, 4, and 5 of this Act take effect January 1, 2010, but only if the constitutional amendment proposed by the 81st Legislature, Regular Session, 2009, establishing the national research university fund to enable emerging research universities in this state to achieve national prominence as major research universities and transferring the balance of the higher education fund to the national research university fund is approved by the voters. If that constitutional amendment is not approved by the voters, Sections 3, 4, and 5 of this Act do not take effect.

Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Amendment No. 2

On behalf of Representative Alonzo, Representative Branch offered the following amendment to CSHB 51:

Amend CSHB 51 by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering the SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Subchapter C, Chapter 61, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 61.0585 to read as follows:

Sec. 61.0585. BONDS TO SUPPORT DEVELOPMENT OF TIER ONE RESEARCH UNIVERSITIES. The board may direct the Texas Public Finance Authority to issue bonds in an amount necessary to provide funds appropriated by the legislature to develop and maintain public research universities in this state of the highest tier.

SECTION _____. Notwithstanding Section 3 of this Act, Section 61.0585, Education Code, as added by this Act, takes effect January 1, 2010, but only if the constitutional amendment proposed by the 81st Legislature, Regular Session, 2009, providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide funding to develop and maintain research universities in this state of the highest tier is approved by the voters. If that amendment is not approved by the voters, Section 61.0585, Education Code, as added by this Act, has no effect.

Amendment No. 2 was withdrawn.

CSHB 51, as amended, was passed to engrossment.

REASONS FOR VOTE

In consideration of HB 492 (relating to faith- and community-based initiatives), an amendment was added on third reading. I believe adoption of the amendment was in violation of Rule 11, Section 5 of the House Rules: "When a bill has been taken up on its third reading, amendments shall be in order, but shall require a two-thirds vote of the members present for their adoption." There was no record vote on the amendment offered. Furthermore, the amendment itself seems to be in violation of Rule 11, Section 3 of the House Rules: "No bill shall be amended in its passage through either house so as to change its original purpose."

The bill was intended to foster and encourage faith-based groups to effectively assist people in need. The HRO analysis clearly states that CSHB 492 "would enhance the capacity of faith- and community-based organizations to provide charitable services to Texans through training and assistance programs for these organizations as well as through coordination with state agencies." Nonetheless, the amendment would prevent faith-based groups that receive grants under this legislation from maintaining their core beliefs, and open those organizations to legal action if even one person finds offence with those beliefs.

The amendment is contrary to a provision of the bill which would conform the program to federal law. 42 U.S.C. Section 604a reads: "The purpose of this section is to allow states to contract with religious organizations, or to allow religious organizations to accept certificates, vouchers, or other forms of disbursement under any program described in Subsection (a)(2) of this section, on the same basis as any other nongovernmental provider without impairing the religious character of such organizations, and without diminishing the religious freedom of beneficiaries of assistance funded under such program."

I believe the amendment is contrary to the letter and spirit of the first amendment of the constitution guaranteeing religious liberty, and therefore I want the record to reflect that I am opposed to passage of HB 492 as long as the amendment remains on the legislation.

HB 51 ON THIRD READING(by Branch, McCall, Coleman, McClendon, Madden, et al.)

HB 51, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to funding and incentives to support emerging public research universities in developing and maintaining programs of the highest tier.

Amendment No. 1

Representative Alonzo offered the following amendment to HB 51:

Amend HB 51 on third reading by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering the SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Subchapter C, Chapter 61, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 61.0585 to read as follows:

Sec. 61.0585. BONDS TO SUPPORT DEVELOPMENT OF TIER ONE RESEARCH UNIVERSITIES. The board may direct the Texas Public Finance Authority to issue bonds in an amount necessary to provide funds appropriated by the legislature to develop and maintain public research universities in this state of the highest tier.

SECTION _____. Notwithstanding Section 3 of this Act, Section 61.0585, Education Code, as added by this Act, takes effect January 1, 2010, but only if the constitutional amendment proposed by the 81st Legislature, Regular Session, 2009, providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide funding to develop and maintain research universities in this state of the highest tier is approved by the voters. If that amendment is not approved by the voters, Section 61.0585, Education Code, as added by this Act, has no effect.
