DIGEST

Currently, public elementary schools in Texas do not offer foreign language courses other than bilingual education programs for students who speak English as a second language. However, academic studies have shown that children who have studied a foreign language in elementary school achieve higher scores on standardized tests in reading, language arts, and mathematics than those who have not. Studies also show that language acquisition skills are sharpest at an early age. This legislation directs the commissioner of education to conduct a feasibility study regarding the cost of providing students in kindergarten through grade 12 with access to foreign language instruction, in order to better prepare students for the demands of a global economy and to improve academic performance.

PURPOSE

As proposed, C.S.S.B. 1034 directs the commissioner of education to conduct a feasibility study regarding the cost of providing students in kindergarten through grade 12 with access to foreign language instruction.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
