Committee Report (Substituted)

DIGEST AND PURPOSE

The 70th Legislature established the Children and Youth Services State Coordinating Committee (C&YSSCC) to assist state and local agencies with the coordination of their local service delivery for children and youth with problems that could be addressed only with the participation of more than one agency. State agencies that are represented on the C&YSSCC are required to maintain a memorandum of understanding (MOU), with the advice of private sector service providers and children's advocates, to provide service to Texas children and youth with multiple needs. Currently, all 254 Texas counties have access to a Community Resource Coordinating Group (CRCG) for children and youth. Due to the success of the CRCG youth model, groups across the state have begun to apply the concept to various adult populations with interagency needs. In 1999, the Texas Comptroller's Performance Report recommended the expansion of the CRCG process to pilot sites for adults.

C.S.S.B. 1468 allows local communities to decide if they need a CRCG for children, adults, families, and/or specialty populations. C.S.S.B. 1468 also requires various agencies, departments, councils, and commissions to adopt a joint MOU to promote a system of local-level interagency staffing groups to coordinate services for all persons needing multiagency services.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
