DIGEST AND PURPOSE

Currently, the Texas Family Code states that a child support obligor who is more than 30 days delinquent in paying child support and a business entity in which the obligor is a sole proprietor, partner, shareholder, or owner with an ownership interest of at least 25 percent is not eligible to receive a state-funded grant or loan. H.B. 529 prevents delinquent child support obligors from receiving a scholarship, a loan associated with an educational loan repayment program, and any other student financial assistance that is conditioned on the performance of some service obligation after graduation or to receive a federally funded educational loan that is administered by the state.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.

SECTION BY SECTION ANALYSIS

(b) Provides that a child support obligor or business entity ineligible to receive payments under Subsection (a) or a child support obligor ineligible to receive payments under Subsection (a-1) remains ineligible until all arrearages have been paid or the obligor is in compliance with a written repayment agreement or court order as to any existing delinquency.

SECTION 2. (a) Effective date: September 1, 2003.

(b) Provides that the change in law made by this Act applies only to student financial assistance paid on or after the effective date of this Act.
