DIGEST AND PURPOSE

Currently, Texas law requires head coaches and chief sponsors for extracurricular activities to present current certification in first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). Marching band directors are not included because band is considered a co-curricular fine arts subject. However, marching band requires prolonged vigorous activity, controlled breathing techniques, and, for many, supporting heavy instruments. Health awareness is a major concern, especially in the heightened Texas temperatures during the first few months of the school year. As proposed, S.B. 741 requires head directors of school marching bands to be certified in first aid and CPR.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
