AUTHOR'S/SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Under current Texas law, the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) believes it does not have the statutory authority to receive State and Tribal Assistance Grants (STAG) for specific purposes. Congress, at various times, provides STAG funds to cities to be administered by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), to be used for water and wastewater projects. EPA is authorized to use up to three percent of each grant as a grant to the state to administer and oversee the STAG projects. In return for the administrative grant, the state assumes all major oversight roles relating to the planning, design, and building phases of the special projects. TWDB interpreted Section 16.093, Water Code, to authorize the agency to participate in the EPA's STAG program, but only for wastewater projects, and not for water supply projects or water-wastewater combination projects. TWDB was encouraged by EPA to apply for STAG funding to administer water or wastewater projects in Texas, but did not believe it had authority to do so because of the limitations in Section 16.093.

As proposed, S.B. 1514 clarifies and broadens TWDB's authority to receive federal grant, loan, and other assistance from any federal agency for water supply projects, treatment works, or structural or nonstructural flood control measures.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
