AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The Supreme Court of Texas recently began live broadcasts of courtroom proceedings over the Internet, enabling citizens to see and hear proceedings without having to attend oral argument. The Texas Legislature has been broadcasting legislative sessions and committee hearings over the Internet as well, except that the legislature has enacted Section 306.005 (Use of Legislatively Produced Audio or Video Materials in Political Advertising Prohibited), Government Code, to prevent potential misuse of the transmission. The Texas Supreme Court may need a similar statute to prevent abuse of its broadcasting ability.

C.S.S.B. 1385 applies certain prohibitions and restrictions on political or commercial use of materials produced by an appellate court.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.

SECTION BY SECTION ANALYSIS

Sec. 22.304. COMMERCIAL USE OF COURT-PRODUCED AUDIO OR VISUAL MATERIALS. (b) Provides that a person who violates Subsection (a) commits a Class C misdemeanor.

(c) Provides that an appellate court is not required to give its permission to a person to use the materials for the purpose of providing an unedited feed to paid subscribers, and is authorized to limit the number of persons to whom it grants permission to use the materials for said purpose.

(d) Provides that Subsection (a) does not prohibit compiling, describing, quoting from, analyzing, or researching the verbal content of the materials for a commercial purpose.

(e) Requires the attorney general to enforce this section at the request of an appellate court by bringing a civil action to enjoin a violation of Subsection (a), in addition to the imposition of a criminal penalty authorized under Subsection (b).

(f) Defines "commercial purposes."
