Committee Report (Substituted)

AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Currently, there are 27 battering intervention and prevention programs that receive funding through the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) and are therefore required to meet several standards set out by TDCJ, although they are not officially accredited. Other programs in the state operate with no requirements. Some judges are not aware of the difference between the two types of programs and refer defendants to both those funded by TDCJ which meet certain requirements and those which are not required to meet any program criteria and are not funded by TDCJ.

C.S.S.B. 44 creates an accreditation process for battering intervention and prevention programs and requires judges to refer defendants in cases of family violence to a program accredited by TDCJ.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to any state officer, institution, or agency.
