AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Midwestern State University (MSU) is a public liberal arts university, but is designated in statute as a state college. MSU became the first and only Texas university member of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges in the summer of 2006. The students, faculty, and administration of MSU believe that this identifiable niche for the university will bring continued positive recognition.

Legislative authorization for MSU is contained in Chapter 103 (Midwestern State University), Education Code. The administration recommends changes to this statute to identify MSU as a public liberal arts university in Texas. This action has the support of the faculty, student body, administration, and board of regents of MSU. The commissioner of higher education has indicated his support of this change.

H.B. 602 sets forth language to explain the mission of MSU and detail the university's goals by changing its designation from a state college to a public liberal arts university.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
