AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The original statute in the Transportation Code that provided for the issuance of disabled parking placards was written years ago in broad language under which optometrists were allowed to issue disability placards. The law was subsequently amended to limit issuance of such placards to a licensed doctor of medicine or doctor of osteopathy. However, other practitioners, including podiatrists, have since been authorized to issue disability placards.

Approximately 80 percent of individuals receive their eye care and determination of visual functioning from an optometrist. Optometrists also provide low vision rehabilitation services for patients with visual disabilities and coordinate care and support for persons with legal blindness. Even if a visually disabled person does not drive, relying instead on another person for transportation, the visually disabled person has sight and mobility issues and would benefit from having access to a preferential parking spot.

S.B. 1367 amends the Transportation Code, to authorize a person who is licensed to practice optometry or therapeutic optometry to provide a notarized statement or written prescription required for a disabled parking placard for a person who has a mobility problem caused by an impairment of vision.
