AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Volunteer fire departments (departments) comprise the sole source of fire protection in many areas across the state, especially rural Texas. Raising the funds necessary to operate is a struggle for these departments. Exemption from the motor fuels tax would greatly benefit the departments and help assure their continued ability to provide services.

There are currently several exemptions from the motor fuel tax, including fuels sold to the federal government and public school districts under certain conditions, fuel exported by a licensed supplier to certain states or to a foreign county, fuels moved by truck or rail between licensed suppliers in transport between terminal racks, and fuels delivered or sold to a storage facility of a licensed aviation fuel dealer. Also exempt are dyed diesel fuel and other types of fuel including certain mixtures of taxable diesel fuel blended with water, fuel ethanol, or bio-diesel and clearly identified as such upon sale or use, dyed kerosene delivered to a storage facility at a retail business for non-highway use, or diesel fuel used by certain commercial motor vehicles to transport hazardous materials or passengers on a fixed route and schedule.

As proposed, S.B. 254 provides a state tax exemption for gasoline and diesel fuel sold to a department for its exclusive use. S.B. 254 also authorizes an eligible department that paid tax on the purchase of gasoline or diesel fuel to file a claim with the comptroller of public accounts for a refund of the tax paid.

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
