AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Interested parties note that the office of the comptroller of public accounts of the State of Texas (comptroller's office) may use cooperative purchasing contracts for the benefit of state agencies. As an example, the parties point to a fuel contract between the City of Fort Worth and state agencies that was procured through competitive bidding and that includes multiple vendors, has provided the state with rebates on fuel purchases, and represents a best value for the state. The parties suggest that clarifying current practices associated with cooperative purchasing agreements and centralizing the functions in the comptroller's office would make the process even better. H.B. 3342 seeks to implement these suggestions.

H.B. 3342 amends current law relating to interstate compacts and cooperative agreements relating to state purchasing.

[Note: While the statutory reference in this bill is to Texas Facilities Commission the following amendments affect the comptroller of public accounts of the State of Texas.]
