AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Under current law, a county must have a political party chair in order to conduct a primary election. In the event of a county party chair vacancy, current law provides an option for the state party chair to contract with local county elections officials to conduct a primary for a statewide office. Even with this option available, it can be difficult to run a primary for statewide office and impossible to run a presidential primary.

According to the Secretary of State, in 2014, 21 counties did not have a Democratic primary and seven counties did not have a Republican primary. These voters are disenfranchised from statewide and presidential primaries simply because there is no party chair and the local county did not contract with the state party chair.

C.S.S.B. 1448 would amend current law to mandate the local county election officer to contract with the state party chair of a political party to hold a primary election for a political party in a county without party leadership for a statewide and presidential primary, upon the request of the state party.

C.S.S.B. 1448 will also provide guidelines for holding primary elections in small population counties, including: at least one county-wide polling place, minimum hours of operation, reporting results to the state party, and waiving the requirement to hold a precinct convention. In addition, it will allow contracted election officers to be affiliated with any political party.

C.S.S.B. 1448 amends current law relating to holding a primary election for a political party in a county without party leadership.
