AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Currently, two separate provisions of the Penal Code are used to prosecute violations of protective orders. Section 25.07 (Violation of Certain Court Orders or Conditions of Bond in a Family Violence, Sexual Assault or Abuse, or Stalking Case) covers family violence protective orders, and Section 38.112 (Violation of Protective Order Issued on Basis of Sexual Assault or Abuse, Stalking, or Trafficking) covers sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking protective orders. Section 25.07 provides more protections for victims and more severe penalties for violations, including the possibility of charging defendants with a felony for repeat violations under Section 25.072 (Repeated Violation of Certain Court Orders or Conditions of Bond in Family Violence Case), rather than separate misdemeanor charges for each violation.

S.B. 147 amends Section 25.07, Penal Code, to allow violations of sexual assault protective orders, stalking protective orders, and human trafficking protective orders issued under Chapter 7A (Protective Order for Victims of Sexual Assault or Abuse, Stalking, or Trafficking), Code of Criminal Procedure, to be prosecuted under that statute, and amends Section 25.072 to allow repeated violations of such orders to be prosecuted under that statute. The bill also adds references to human trafficking to Section 411.042 (Bureau of Identification and Records), Government Code, to require the Bureau of Identification and Records of the Department of Public Safety of the State of Texas (DPS) to collect and maintain data concerning human trafficking protective orders. The bill also repeals Section 38.112, Penal Code, the current statute used to prosecute violations of sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking protective orders.

By repealing Section 38.112 and providing that all violations of protective orders be prosecuted under Section 25.07, S.B. 147 strengthens protections for victims of sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking and provides more enforcement tools to prosecutors. S.B. 147 also improves data concerning protective orders by requiring DPS to collect and maintain data on human trafficking protective orders.

As proposed, S.B. 147 amends current law relating to the violation of sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking protective orders and relating to the DPS's duties to collect and maintain data concerning protective orders.

As proposed, S.B. 147 amends current law relating to the violation of certain court orders or conditions of bond in a family violence, sexual assault or abuse, stalking, or trafficking case.
