AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Memorial Day, which is observed on the last Monday of May, is a day to honor soldiers who have died in the defense of our freedom. Accordingly, most schools do not hold classes on Memorial Day, but there have been some reported instances of schools requiring attendance on this holiday. Specifically, since the day falls so late in the school year, districts have used this holiday as an opportunity to make up days lost to inclement weather or other emergencies throughout the year. Interested parties note, however, that holding classes on Memorial Day diminishes the observation of the holiday and the sacrifices of the fallen soldiers it honors.

H.B. 441 properly recognizes Memorial Day by prohibiting schools from offering instruction on that day. For districts for which classes on Memorial Day would be necessary to meet the required instructional minutes for the year, the bill directs the commissioner of education to authorize a waiver that would reduce the minute requirement to allow the schools to remain closed on this day. H.B. 441 reaffirms Texas' commitment to honor the sacrifices of our men and women in uniform by ensuring the day remains a time for reflection and celebration.

H.B. 441 amends current law relating to operation of public schools on Memorial Day.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
