Committee Report (Substituted)

AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The P-TECH (Pathways in Technology Early College High School) model is based upon an early college high school model, but was developed to create a direct pathway for students from high school to college to the workplace. The model was built upon a partnership between school districts/charters, higher education institutions, and business/industry, with P-TECH students receiving focused education and skills that will prepare them for high-demand jobs.

Key components of the P-TECH model include:

- Partnership between school district, higher education institution, and industry: All making long-term commitments to the success of the school and its students.
- High school, higher education, and business commit to providing: an integrated scope and sequence of high school and college courses; an industry-recognized, postsecondary degree for all students; and hands-on business experience. By utilizing a six-year model, students are provided the time and seamless supports necessary to earn a postsecondary degree in addition to their high school diploma.
- Workplace-learning strand, including mentoring, worksite visits, speakers, project days, skills-based and paid internships, as well as "first-in-line" interview guarantee for available jobs. (Original Author's/Sponsor's Statement of Intent)

C.S.S.B. 22 amends current law relating to the establishment of a Pathways in Technology Early College High School (P-TECH) program and to the repeal of the tech-prep program.
