AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

What does this bill do?

- S.B. 2101 adds a new definition for an authorized form of notification for victims of crime which allows information regarding court proceedings and criminal investigations to be delivered electronically when requested by the victim, the victim's family, or their representation.

Background and Purpose:

- The Rights of Crime Victims Act was passed by the Texas Legislature in the 1980s and created a statutory framework to ensure that victims of crime were afforded certain rights under Texas law.
- In the Texas Constitution, Article 1, Section 30 (Crime Victims' Bill of Rights), and the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure (CCP), Chapter 56A (Rights of Crime Victims), there are several mentions of the "right to information" for a victim of crime.
- (2)(b) On the request of a crime victim, the victim has the following rights:
  - (1) the right to notification of court proceedings;
  - (5) the right to information about the conviction, sentence, imprisonment, and release of the accused.
- Due to the era in which the Rights of Crime Victims Act was passed, there were no means of electronic communications invented at the time of the passage of the act other than phone calls.
- S.B. 2101 creates a new definition for an authorized form of electronic notification allowing for the delivery of information to a crime victim by email, text, phone call, or personal contact and may be requested through an anonymous online portal as applicable.
- S.B. 2101 enhances and modernizes already existing rights of victims of crime to be notified regarding the specifics of their case.

S.B. 2101 amends current law relating to certain notifications related to the rights of crime victims.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
